CONSUMER PRICE INDEX UP .2% IN NOVEMBER

The Consumer Price Index rose 0.2% in November, the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported. Most of the increase was due to higher property taxes and higher prices for fresh vegetables, homes, and some women's clothing, the effects of which were moderated by lower prices for used cars and gasoline. The November index was 122.6 (1967=100); 3.5 per cent above a year ago.

The November CPI reflects the refund required by the Revenue Act of 1971 of excise tax on new cars purchased by consumers in November. Since the refund is retroactive to Aug. 15, 1971, indexes for August, September, and October have been recalculated. The recomputation reduces previously published indexes to the levels at which they would have been if the tax had not been paid at the time of purchase and alters some percentage changes previously reported.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the increase in the November index was 0.2 per cent. During the August-November period, which corresponds roughly to the period covered by Phase I of the Economic Stabilization Program, the CPI increased at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.7 per cent, the smallest rise for a 3-month period since January-April of 1967. The August-November change compares with a 4.1 annual rate of advance during the 6 months ending in August. All three major components of the index — food, commodities other than food, and services—contributed to the slowdown. In November, the food price index rose 0.7 per cent after seasonal adjustment, following no change in October and a decline in September. The index of nonfood commodities was unchanged for the third consecutive month. The index for service charges rose 0.3 per cent, compared with increases of 0.5 and 0.6 per cent in the four months prior to the wage-price-rent freeze.

The October to November change reflects for the most part changes in prices collected during the wage-price-rent freeze although some prices were collected before Aug. 15 and after Nov. 13. The November index also includes price changes for items exempt from the freeze, such as raw foods, or subject to special regulations which permit increases under certain conditions.

The index for food purchased in grocery stores rose 0.1 per cent in November instead of declining sharply as it usually does at this time of year. The change in the food at home index reflects changes in prices from the first week in October to the first week in November. Fresh vegetable prices rose more than they usually do in November due to lower production of fall crops. Prices of pork, which are still averaging below year earlier levels, rose contraseasonally. Declines in beef, fresh fruit, and egg prices were less than usual. On the other hand, the price index for cereal and bakey products declined.

The index of restaurant meals and snacks, the other major component of the total food index, rose 0.2 per cent, the smallest increase this year.

BELFAST GIRL RECEIVES HATCH SCHOLARSHIP AT U. OF M.-ORONO

Miss Brenda Jean Crosby, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Crosby of 31 Court Street, Belfast has been awarded the Elise R. Hatch Memorial Scholarship for the 1971-72 academic year at the University of Maine at Orono.

Miss Crosby is the fourth recipient of the award and will receive the earnings from the endowed fund which was established by schoolmates, friends and relatives of Miss Hatch, who had been accepted as a member of the UMO freshman class of 1971 when she died in an automobile accident Sept. 6, 1967, at Orono.

Miss Crosby is a sophomore in the UMO College of Life Sciences and Agriculture majoring in biology and considering the possibility of a teaching career following graduation.

Annual income from the award is given each year to a woman student from Maine following her freshman year at the University of Maine at Orono. The recipient is chosen on the basis of most closely exemplifying the traits of leadership, scholastic achievement, values and interests of Miss Hatch.

This year's recipient is an honors graduate of Belfast Area High School where her activities included the yearbook, chorus, newspaper, Arts Chorale, Footlights, swimming team and American Field Service.

Miss Hatch, for whom the award is named, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hatch of Islesboro, attended Islesboro elementary and junior high schools and graduated from Gould Academy in 1967.

The memorial fund in her honor was established through contributions of some 125 individuals as well as eight organized civic, school and church groups at Isleboro, Bethel and Orono. The Distinguished Maine Scholar award which Miss Hatch would have received at UMO for the fall of 1967 constitutes a part of the Memorial Fund.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The Budget Committee met for the first time Wednesday night to consider appropriations requested by the manager. The preliminary requests total $7170 more than 1971. As the meetings proceed this figure will change as various adjustments are made.

There have been requests presented for articles in the Town Meeting Warrant for a sidewalk on Philbrook Street and to assist in a water line extension to the Legion Hall on Vernon St. The funds required for these projects have not been added to the other requests.

The Philbrook Street sidewalk will require land acquisition, as the present right of way is only two rods wide. The water line extension costs are vague as we are not sure how much the present services in the area will be disrupted.

We expect to receive at least an estimate of the School District's budget soon as the directors are now considering the requests made to operate the schools.

PARENT-TEACHERS FORUM SPONSORS P. E. PROGRAM AT E. B. S. AND C. P. S.

Do your children like to skate? Very soon they will be able to skate on the Crescent Park School skating area as part of a regular weekly physical education program initiated through the efforts of concerned parents and Edward Flynn, principal of Ethel Bisbee and Crescent Park Schools. Mothers are volunteering to supervise the skating time to help the teachers.

A similar program is being initiated at Ethel Bisbee School where parents will organize games, and the children will have a weekly recreation period.

In order to give all children an opportunity to skate, the PTF is collecting skates—and socks—of all sizes, to be kept at Crescent Park and loaned to children during the activity period. If you have some skates that are too small for your child, would you like to contribute them to the skating program? We could also use one or two more benches for the children to sit on while putting on skates. Sue O'Donnell, 824-2470, or Lynda Chandler, 824-2734, would be glad to pick them up.

ME. SNOWMOBILE ASSN. SAYS "SNOWMOBILE IS NOT TOY"

The Maine Snowmobile Association announced this week that it is extremely concerned with the number of fatal snowmobile accidents in December of 1971.

The president of the MSA, Nate Pease, stated that of the four fatal accidents this season, three of the victims have been 17 years of age or younger. Last winter, in December of 1970, two of the three fatalities involved teenagers.

Mr. Pease went on to say that, "The snowmobile is not a toy. When improperly used, a snowmobile can be as dangerous as a loaded gun. When properly used a snowmobile is not more dangerous than a pair of snowshoes. It all depends on the operator."

Pease explained that parents should not allow any of their children, regardless of age, to use a snowmobile unsupervised unless they are absolutely certain that the operator is thoroughly familiar with the machine and has the ability and the mature judgment to use it safely.

The leading cause of snowmobile fatalities throughout the country has been collision with automobiles. Last year in Maine there were two deaths of this type. Fortunately, thus far this year there have been none.

Pease added that, "Operating a snowmobile on a highway is suicidal as well as illegal. When law enforcement officers stop snowmobile operators and give them a summons for breaking a law, their only intent is to keep people from killing themselves or someone else. Any snowmobile operator who gets arrested for operating on a plowed road should thank the officer for doing it. He may have saved their lives."

S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS HELD REGULAR MEETING MONDAY

A regular meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board of directors was held in the library at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening.

The board approved a request of the Telstar math department to make application to the State Department of Education for a minigrant under Title III. Ted Davis, math department chairman, explained that if the application was approved at the State level, funds received would be used primarily for audio-visual equipment and the development of a series of learning packets for Algebra I in an attempt to individualize instruction in the course.

Supt. Robert J. Gerardi commented on the status of the Andover Continuous Progress Project and suggested that the Individually Prescribed Instruction be started in arithmetic. The board approved Mr. Gerardi's recommendation that the Andover principal, Robert Hamor, be sent to attend a three-day workshop in Pittsburgh, Pa., to study the I. P. I. Math Program and the I. P. I. method of instruction generally. The cost to the district is not to exceed $100.

The board discussed the secondary math and science departments requests for the upcoming budget. Reviewing requests were Ted Davis, math chairman, and Lawrence Arsenault, science chairman. The board will hold a special meeting at Telstar Regional High School next Monday evening to discuss remaining secondary department requests.

Board members not present Monday evening were: Leon Akers of Andover, and Donald Stecher of Bethel.

The next regular meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board will be held at Telstar Regional High School at 7:30 Monday evening, Jan. 17.

GREENWOOD CITY —

— Mrs. Collista Morgan, Correa. —

This winter's day I took an hours trek on snowshoes into the swamp across my pond.

Leaving the main road where I strapped on my snowshoes I slid down the bank to the pond's edge, crossed below the channel and went up the back shore.

The grasses and bushes were still waving above the snow and I hesitated at the swamp's border, to pick a few fascinating specimens. One especially attracted my attention. It had double rows of spore-cases on the face of the branch. I presumed it was a fern and so brought it home to look it up in my fern book on "Ferns of Nova Scotia," the only one I have. They were very attractive with the many tiny brown beads just above the whiteness of the snow.

In many places as I passed beneath the white birches the dried blossoms of the steeplebush were visible. Real green leaves, soft, like leather, were on some swamp plants.

Color is always about, even on a stormy winter day, and right now the snow flakes started. Take the cedar red, in June it's the flaming devil's paint brush, the next month, on the edge of the woods, a wood lily can be seen. At the foot of a hill in August there are the glossy bittersweet berries or a cardinal flower by a pool. In September the Jack-in-the-pulpit fruits while in October of course the red maples. Then in early winter there come the fruits of the cranberry tree flaring from some high spot. Winter? The bright tips of the winter buds of willows, red maples and blueberry plants, some of which I saw today.

I crossed the lower field of the "Dime" Whitman farm. It is always that to me. I stopped to view the growth of the small pines which I hadn't visited since last winter in snowshoe time. They had grown —just hundreds of them.

Following the edge of the field I turned through the woods toward Sanborn River. The shade was as somberly solemn as a church. The ground beneath the trees was strewn with pine needles and broken twigs left by the last blow.

A gentle breeze stirred and the woodpecker pounded his tap-tap.

I cried the ice and crossed the river to the higher ground beyond.

Did you ever stop in a grove of beeches in winter when the snow was falling and just listen? The leaves dry and clinging stirred mysteriously and a music played as those tiny stars hit them, then came to rest upon my dark coat; little dots of lace. Beneath my feet to the right I discovered a perfect story bridge through which the brook chuckled. It, too, was enjoying and adding to, the music and the falling stars.

An animal had come down to drink, perhaps washing his little paws as daintily as a lady I half expected to see him beneath the ice.

Moving on I crossed other water ways which bubbled beneath the ice.

I saw ahead a great old yellow birch that looked as if it had staggered suicidally to the rim of a ledge then in a moment of regret had stopped to permanently clutch, with exposed clawing roots for support from falling.

Now I was emerging from the woods well down big pond.

The roar of a motor above was thinned to a purr as it passed unseen above me.

Here in the open I faced into the north west and the snow was more noticeable.

There was no visible stir as I made my way up pond and then climbed the bank toward my lower driveway.

I arrived at the secluded spot of home, hemmed in by trees, picturesque now in feathery coats and where winter has settled down at last to a routine of steadiness.

The Richard LaComtes are visiting his parents for a few days.

The Goodrums spent vacation week in Berlin.

The Bob Charrons of Rhode Island were at their home here over the week end.

We extend sympathy to the Barnett family formerly of Upton. Lila was a long time resident here and very active in community life. She will be missed by her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris of LeRoy, N. Y., and several of their family and friends were at their home here during vacation.

The Roland LaClercs of Berlin, N. H., spent several days at their camp on the lake. Ellen had the flu so they were not able to come the first part of vacation.

Sunday, Laurie and I went to the Artex Instructors Holiday Party which was held at the Chateau de Ville in Framingham, Mass. The new line is exciting and I am busy painting some pieces I brought home but the traveling was exciting in a much less pleasant way. We passed one accident of several vehicles, saw others in the snowbanks, met ambulances and wreckers, heard reports of other accidents and were warned at toll gates. Visibility was very poor for the last several miles because of high wind and swirling snow but we got back safely in the wee small hours.

Fred and Bea went to Portland Sunday to visit relatives and friends in that area, but were disappointed to find none of them were at home.

School opened Monday morning. Michelle Goodrum had her tonsils out during vacaton and is unable to attend this week.

Mrs. T. Whitman and children called on her parents, the Estes Yates, Friday.

Darnita Yates visited her cousin, Nona Whitman at Norway a few days of her vacation.

Tim LaVallee kept the older boys exercised at Mt. Abram during the vacation skiing.

Some snowmobiles are being taken up in pick-up trucks, so some must be looking Ketchum over. I hope they frighten the coy-dovs back to where they came from so the few deer that are here can live and grow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Verrill and children spent the week at the Floyd Verrill place and did some skiing.

Ten below zero on New Years morning surely sounds as if January was starting in low gear.

More birds have been to the feeders the last few days. So more thanks for their Christmas present of seeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Yates had a party New Years Eve for neighbors and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to all my Lewiston Sun customers for their thoughtfulness and gifts at Christmas.

Christian Science
The sermons of pastoral Christianity will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in a Bible lesson/sermon entitled "Sacrament."
Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do, because I go unto my Father." These words of Christ Jesus are included in the Scriptural readings.
One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "The hour has struck when proof and demonstration, instead of opinion and dogma, are summoned to the support of Christianity, 'making wise the simple'."

TEACHER PROFILE

Mrs. Alma Young

Mrs. Alma Young has taught fourth grade classes in Bethel schools since 1965. Presently she teaches in the Crescent Park School.

Mrs. Young was born in Lynn, Mass., and graduated from Edward Little High School in Auburn, Maine. She received her teacher training at Farmington State Normal School and completed her degree in elementary education at the University of Maine in Orono in 1964.

Along with educational interests she has studied art at Haystack School of Crafts for two seasons, taken courses in jewelry, graphic arts, and pottery. To supplement her knowedge of the learning process, she completed a course last year on 'How Adults Learn."

As a result of some of this training and attendance at an N.T.L. session plus some discoveries while teaching, she feels that the future will lead to some fantastic changes in our traditional treatment of the educational process.

Mrs. Young has a daughter, Pam, a graduate of Pierce Secretarial School in Boston, and a son, Donald, presently attending the University of Colorado.

For recreation, Mrs. Young enjoys sewing, decorating, and painting.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Beauty in Maine!

Editor, Sir,

The evils are many in our land, and they are cried about loudly. And rightly so!

But there is much beauty which must not go unnoticed. Permit me to share a beautiful experience:— I was caught in the great snowstorm of last Monday at night on the road between Canton and Rumford. Not being accustomed to weather conditions like these, I could not see the road ahead of me and stopped right in the middle of it. There was a knock on the window, and a kindly concerned face asking what the trouble was. Having heard my predicament, he turned back to his car and within seconds a smiling, beautiful, well groomed lady opened the door and declared she was going to chauffeur me: She looked as if she had come from Fairyland rather than from a Maine snowstorm and my distress vanished like by a magic wand. She asked where I wanted to go and I suggested the nearest motel so as not to impose on them too much. Arrived at the motel the husband appeared and having heard I lived in Bethel, said to his wife: why don't we take her home? They did not mind driving in the snowstorm! And so to Bethel we went, to Sudbury Inn for dinner, to my apartment for a cup of tea and fruit cake, and it was about midnight when the lovely people went back to their home in Mexico. God bless you, Mr. Henry and Mrs. Christine Schmersal. Thank you that you exist and that you added another gem to the string of lovely experiences, and two new friends!

Bronislawa Y. Noyi
Bethel, January 6, 1972

Editor Sir,

For the benefit of those of us who are tempted to quote out of context and to drop that part of the story which does not suit our particular chip on the shoulder, regardless of truth, perhaps it would be well to retell the story of the atheist who tried to convert a believer to his "faith".—

Atheist: But it says in the Bible: "There is no God!"

Believer: ???

Atheist: "Yes, see here, right at the top of the page: 'There is no God'."

Believer: (Taking the Bible, turning the page back and reading the last sentence at the bottom): "Said the fool in his heart: 'There is no God'."

You, our sweet young generation will learn to formulate value judgments by examining all sides of a story. And here is one value judgment offered to you, and that is: Regardless of all your scholastic and other cultural achievements, regardless of how expertly you kick a ball around, we have taught you nothing if we did not teach you that CULTURE IS A WAY OF THINKING AND FEELING, THAT CULTURE IS SEARCH FOR TRUTH AND LOVE OF JUSTICE, THAT IS WHAT EDUCATION IS ALL ABOUT!

KENNETT HIGH SCHOOL BAND GOES TO WASHINGTON

Many friends and relatives of Mike and Penny (Davis) Hathaway from the Bethel - Bryant Pond vicinity have asked about their recent trip to Washington, D. C. with the Kennett High School Band. (Conway, N. H.) Here is their account:

Mike had the idea of the band going to Washington when he learned that the Capitol Christmas Tree was to be taken from the Kancamaugus, not far from Conway, N. H. The Capitol Tree is not to be confused with the National Tree which is the one at the White House. First, he had to arrange an invitation and then figure out how to get there. A fantastic fund raising drive was held; the cooperation among the people of the area was wonderfully enthusiastic. By the time we left, over $3000 had been raised. This was organized by the president of the Carroll County Trust Company in Conway. A committee handled most of the many details of the trip, so that left Mike solely to rehearsals, answering the phone and worrying. Senator McIntyre's and Congressman Wyman's offices handled many arrangements and were very helpful.

On Dec. 1, 1971, a brass-sax ensemble from the band was on hand to play when the tree was cut. Later that week, after it had been wrapped, the whole band paraded it through the town on its way to Washington. They were very colorful in their new winter uniforms of red windbreakers with Mount Washington Valley Patches and multi-colored striped ski hats from Carrol Reed Ski Shop. They deliberately chose that style uniform so that they would represent the whole area and N. H., rather than just the school. That helped in publicity, too.

Finally on Monday, Dec. 13, at 6:15 a. m., 54 junior and senior high school students, 12 chaperones, including Mike and Penny, and two bus drivers left Conway by one chartered bus and three cars. We arrived at our destination, the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md., about 5:45 p. m. A congratulatory telegram was waiting there from Maine's Senator Muskie. The location and accommodations were ideal for our group — inexpensive, delicious meals, rehearsal area. The most important aspect of being there was being kept all together all of the time. The Center held 800, but we were the only group there.

CAPITOL TREE — The Kennett High School Band, Conway, N. H., as it escorted the Capitol Christmas Tree as it starts its journey to Washington, D. C., in early December.

After supper and a short rehearsal we drove into Washington to see it at night. Of course everyone was very impressed. We got out at the Lincoln Memorial where Penny's cousin, Roger Dock, from Bethel, who is in the Navy and stationed at the White House, met us and helped us find our way around.

Tuesday morning we met Senator McIntyre's secretary, Judy Hunter—also N. H.'s candidate for Cherry Blossom Princess, in the Capitol Rotunda, and were handed over to a tour guide. After our tour there we went across the street to the Supreme Court. We were fortunate in being able to see it in session. Then we boarded the bus again and drove to the White House which had just finished being decorated for Christmas. It was gorgeous—those chandeliers were unbelievable! Roger met us again there and was very helpful. With him was Peter Kennett, a Kennett graduate stationed on the presidential yacht.

After lunch at a nearby sandwich shop we had a tour of the FBI which the kids liked very much. We were scheduled to be at the House of Representatives' Office Building by late afternoon for pictures and to meet Congressman Wyman. He wasn't available then, but came running up to the bus as it was getting ready to leave.

Wednesday, Dec 15, was the highlight of the trip—another busy day. The first stop was Fort Myer to listen to the Army band rehearse for a Christmas program at the Kennedy Center It was very informal, and everyone loved it.

At noon the Kennett Band presented a concert in the Senate Office Building Rotunda. We have never heard them play better. The acoustics were fantastic, especially for Christmas music. Senator and Mrs. McIntyre stayed for nearly the whole program, talked with the band and chaperones, gave us all souvenirs, and of course had their pictures taken (election year you know). Miss Hunter "sat in" on the French horn for one number. We ate in the Senate Cafeteria, and they happened to be serving Christmas dinner as Congress was to be adjourned soon.

We were supposed to visit the Smithsonian in the afternoon but ran out of time, so just rested or went for a walk. Some discovered that the Botanical Gardens were not far away. It was a beautiful 71° day. The forsythia and cherry blossoms were even starting to bloom again.

The main purpose of the trip was to attend the tree lighting ceremonies. The band set up for this about 4 p. m. by the steps of the Capitol. The tree, a 45 foot black spruce, was lit by Speaker of the House Carl Albert and was decorated with 5,000 lights, 3,000 ornaments, and a 36 inch Star of Bethlehem on top. The band played several numbers. They were presented with a flag that had flown over the Capitol that day. Congressman Wyman spoke briefly. A large D. C. Youth Chorale, All City Chorus was on hand, although they had bus problems and got there late. Actually the Kennett Band was the biggest part of the program.

We left the 4-H Center at 6:45 a. m. Thursday morning in balmy weather and arrived in Conway at 6:15 p. m. where it was windy and very cold. The students should remember the trip for a long time It was a once in a lifetime opportunity for most of them. They behaved themselves extremely well and were complimented on their behavior wherever they went. It was a very successful trip.

However, we were relieved when we all got home safe and sound We picked up Brian and Brenda at the Hathaways in Bryant Pond Friday night. They'd been good and had a nice time, too, as they always are when they stay there. Mike is already achieving about the band's next adventure he hopes to play for the Governor. Anyway, the band was well rehearsed for their Christmas concert on Wednesday, Dec. 22!

NOVEMBER C. P. I. UP .2%

The index for nonfood commodities edged up seasonally in November. The new car price index went up 0.5 percent, less than it usually does in November. The refund of the excise tax on new cars did not affect changes from October to November because the indexes in both months were reduced by the same amount. The index for apparel commodities rose seasonally as prices of fall and winter clothing items were collected for the first time this season in some areas. Prices also rose for homes and a few other commodities. The effects of those increases were just about offset by large price declines for gasoline and used cars and small price decreases for some housekeeping supplies, toilet goods, and recreation type items.

About three-fourths of the rise in the index for services was due to higher charges for household services. Property taxes as well as water and sewer rates advanced. Gas rates increased sharply due to the regular change to winter rates in some areas, but electricity rates declined slightly and telephone charges were unchanged. Mortgage interest costs rose because of higher house prices; mortgage interest rate declined for the first time since June. The rate of increase in the index for medical care services was 0.1 per cent, the smallest increase in six years except for the few months in which the regular annual adjustment to health insurance was made.

378 TEACHERS REQUEST APPLICATIONS FOR MINI-GRANT PROGRAM DURING DECEMBER

Leroy O. Nesbitt, Title III coordinator of the Maine Department of Education, announced that during December 378 Maine teachers requested application forms for the newly developed Mini-grant Program. The program is designed to financially assist local teachers who want to adopt new and imaginative approaches for solving classroom problems during the second semester of the 1971 72 school year.

A total of $10,000 in Federal funds is being made available for the program by the Maine Title III office. Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 provides money to help translate the latest teaching and learning knowledge into educational practices.

Successful applicants of the program will receive individual grants ranging from $50 to $1,000 in size to help them develop their own creative and supplementary teaching techniques.

Nisbett said: "Fourteen mini-grant proposals had been received as of December 30. Any teacher in a Maine public or private elementary or secondary school may still apply for a grant within the next two weeks. Each mini-grant proposal should indicate that maximum use will be made of existing local resources."

Mini grant application forms may be obtained at the Maine Title III Office in Augusta. Applications must be returned to the office by Jan. 15.

MAGALLOWAY

— Mrs. Bessie Harvey, Corres. —

A nice party was given to Donald Baker at the Magalloway Town Hall Friday evening, the occasion being his 20th birthday. He was presented with a gift of money. It was a very sociable evening with about 75 people.

The Magalloway and Wilson's Mills schools did not start Monday morning as the teacher, Mrs. Gwen Littlehale is ill.

A daughter was born to Mrs. Joy Littlehale Eastman on Christmas Day at the Connecticut Valley Hospital at Colebrook. Joy is the wife of Robert Eastman of Wentworth Location and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Littlehale of Magalloway. The infant has been named Victoria.

Mrs. Hazel Harvey returned to the Hanover hospital Monday morning for further treatment.

A nice New Year's Eve party was also held at Errol which was very well attended.

On New Year's Eve the temperature dropped to 20 below zero and next morning at seven o'clock it was 30 below. A lot of trucks and cars would not start.

Two small elk also have been on my porch two evenings now picking up scraps where a little lamb was eating. They are very cute and almost white and must be the same ones that were here with their parents in the fall.

Enough snow fell in Tucson, Ariz., recently to enable my daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Harvey, to build a snowman. She wrote that she saw several cars pass with snowmen on top of them. This amount of snow is quite unusual for that part of the state but it did not stay long.

How much interest have you lost on your savings in the past year?

With many savings accounts, as you perhaps know, you have to remember when the interest is paid, what months, how many times a year, or else you can lose out on some interest by making a withdrawal at the wrong time.

Even when you remember, waiting for the right time can be inconvenient.

That's why Casco has introduced DAY-IN / DAY-OUT savings.

With this new account you never lose even a day's interest because Casco pays you interest on every dollar you have in the bank for every day you have it in there — from the day you put it in to the day you take it out. And every dollar earns 4½%, the legal maximum interest Casco is allowed to pay on this account. Other Casco savings plans pay up to 5¼%, but notice of withdrawal is required.

Present Casco savings customers interested in this new service must apply — conversion from regular passbook savings is not automatic.
